THE FRONT OFFICE

Mariners Chairman & C.E.O John Ellis

THE FRONT OFFICE

JOHN ELLIS

Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis serves as the Chairman and CEO of the Baseball Club of Seattle, a position he has held since the group assumed control of the Mariners on July 1, 1992. Ellis also serves as the owner's representative to Major League Baseball for the Baseball Club of Seattle.

On January 23, 1995, the ownership group from the Baseball Club of Seattle presented Ellis and his wife, Doris, with a plaque that will hang in the new Seattle baseball park, which is scheduled to open in April, 1999. The plaque dedicates a section of the ball park as the "John and Doris Ellis Mariners Pavilion," in appreciation of their outstanding community service and for their efforts in keeping Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest.

Ellis, 67, served variously as President, CEO and Chairman of the Board of Puget Sound Power & Light Company, from 1970 to his retirement in 1993. He joined Puget Power in 1970 after 17 years as an attorney with the Seattle firm of Perkins Coie.

He serves on the board of directors of Puget Sound Power & Light Company, Washington Mutual Savings Bank, SAFECO Corporation, UTILX Corporation and the Associated Electric & Gas Insurance Services Limited (AEGIS). Ellis is past chairman of the Edison Electric Institute, the Electric Power Research Institute and the Seattle branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

Ellis has been just as active in the community, as he was the founding chairman of the Seattle-King County Economic Development Council, past chairman of the Greater Seattle Chamber of Commerce and the Washington Business Roundtable, and a past president of the Bellevue Boys & Girls Club. He is a Regent of Washington State University and is chair of the Board of Trustees of Seattle University. He also headed a successful four-year campaign that privately funded a city park in downtown Bellevue.

Ellis and his older brother Jim were presented the 1992 A.K. Guy Award by the YMCA of Greater Seattle for outstanding community service. Ellis has received numerous other awards, including Seattle's First Citizen in 1987 presented by the Seattle-King County Board of Realtors, The Citizen of the Year in 1984 from the Municipal League of Seattle and King County, and Eastside Citizen of the Year in 1992.

Ellis received his undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Washington. John and his wife, Doris, live in Bellevue and have four children and three grandchildren. His hobbies include sailing, tennis, golf, flying, skiing and music.

CHUCK ARMSTRONG

President & Chief Operating Officer

Chuck Armstrong was named President and Chief Operating Officer of the Seattle Mariners on June 29, 1992. Armstrong is responsible for all operations of the Mariners' franchise and works directly with Chief Executive Officer John Ellis.

Armstrong, 53, was previously President of the Mariners from 1983 to 1989. He served as Interim Athletic Director for the University of Washington from January through July, 1991.

Born and raised in Louisville, Kentucky, Armstrong earned a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering from Purdue University where he was recognized as Outstanding Senior Man. He graduated from Stanford University Law School in 1967 and then served three and one-half years on active duty in the U.S. Navy.

Following his tour in the Navy, Armstrong joined a major West Coast law firm in 1970. He left to become president of a leading national furniture manufacturer and importer from 1977 to 1980. From 1980 to 1983, he served as president and chief executive officer of Arnel Management Company in Orange County, California.

Armstrong and his wife, Susan, make their home in Bellevue. They have three children: daughters Dorrie (25) and Katherine (23); and a son, Chuck (14). The Armstrongs are active in numerous civic, charitable and community activities.

THE NEW BALL PARK

On October 17, 1995, Washington Governor Mike Lowry signed into law legislation that will provide $320 million in funding for a new ball park in Seattle.

The ball park, which will have natural turf and a retractable roof, will be designed by the Seattle-based NBBJ Architects, which is also building the new ball park in Milwaukee. The site for the ball park will be selected by August with the final design approved by December. The ground breaking is expected to be held in January, 1997 with the ball park scheduled to be ready for Opening Day in 1999.

WOODY WOODWARD

Vice President, Baseball Operations

The 1996 campaign is the eighth season for William Frederick "Woody" Woodward as Vice President of Baseball Operations. He is directly responsible for the Mariners' Major League personnel and operations, player development and scouting departments.

Last season, Woodward and his staff masterfully used a variety of means to provide Lou Piniella with the talent needed for Seattle to capture its first American League West crown. Pitchers Tim Belcher and Andy Benes and outfielders Vince Coleman and Warren Newson were added via the trade route, while stopper Norm Charlton was picked up as a free agent.

The Mariners did not rest this winter as Woodward and his staff were among the busiest yet again, adding Russ Davis, Sterling Hitchcock, Edwin Hurtado and Paul Menhart through trades and signing free agents Mike Jackson, Luis Polonia and Paul Sorrento.

A native of Miami, FL, the 53-year-old Woodward began his front office career in 1978 as the Cincinnati Reds' minor league field coordinator, a position he held for two years before his promotion to assistant general manager in 1980.

In October, 1984, he joined the New York Yankees as Vice President, Baseball Administration. Under his direction, the Yankees won the 1985 Topps Award for the best overall minor league system.

On October 10, 1986, he was promoted as the Yankees' Vice President and General Manager, a position he held until his resignation on October 21, 1987. One week later, he moved on to the Philadelphia Phillies and served as their Vice President, Player Personnel from October 28, 1987 until June 7, 1988. He joined the Mariners on July 28, 1988.

A former NCAA All-American, Woodward earned a bachelor's and master's degree in Education from Florida State University. Following his graduation, he signed his first professional contract with the Milwaukee Braves' organization in 1963 and made his Major League debut with Milwaukee later that same season.

He spent nearly five years with the Braves, moving with the club to Atlanta in 1966, before he was traded to Cincinnati in 1968. While with Cincinnati, he played in the 1970 NLCS sweep of Pittsburgh and the World Series loss to Baltimore.

Following his retirement in 1971, he entered private business, but came back to baseball in 1974-75 as the Reds' TV color analyst. He returned to his alma mater as a head baseball coach, posting the best winning percentage in Seminole history (170-57, .749) from 1975-78.

Woodward and his wife, Pamela, have three children, Natalie (27), Emily (25) and Mattson (20). They reside in Redmond, WA.

ROGER JONGEWAARD

Vice President, Scouting & Player Development

Roger Jongewaard is in his 11th season with the Mariners, and his seventh since being named as the club's Vice President of Scouting and Player Development in October, 1989. Jongewaard oversees the club's scouting operations, the annual June free agent draft effort and all minor league player movement throughout the Mariners' farm system.

Jongewaard, 59, joined the Mariners in December, 1985 as director of scouting. In his years overseeing the draft, the Mariners drafted such players as Ken Griffey, Jr., Tino Martinez, Alex Rodriguez, Bob Wolcott, Jason Varitek and Jose Cruz, Jr. On the current 40-man roster, 15 players were selected by Seattle in the June draft and another four signed their first contracts as minor league free agents.

On February 4, 1996, Jongewaard was inducted into the R.B.I. League Hall of Fame by the Los Angeles chapter. R.B.I. stands for Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities, and provides youngsters the opportunity to play baseball in a well-organized and quality program.

Jongewaard has been in professional baseball for 33 years, including six as a minor league catcher with the Milwaukee Braves, Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds organizations (1954-59). In 1959, he was a member of the Seattle Rainiers.

After spending ten years in private business, Jongewaard returned to baseball in 1969 with the California Angels. He moved on to scouting with the Texas Rangers in 1973 and the New York Mets in 1976. In 1983, the Detroit Tigers named him as a special assignment scout to general manager Bill Lajoie, a job he held until joining the Mariners.

Among the Major League players signed by Jongewaard during his scouting years are: 1986 National League Cy Young winner Mike Scott; 1989 N.L. MVP Kevin Mitchell; 1983 N.L. Rookie of the Year winner Darryl Strawberry; Tim Leary; Lenny Dykstra; Hubie Brooks; Randy Milligan; and Greg Harris.

A Long Beach, CA native, Jongewaard starred in baseball at Long Beach Poly High School and signed a professional contract with Milwaukee upon his graduation in 1954.

Jongewaard resides in Woodinville, WA with his wife, Carol. They have five grown children, Terry (37), Diane (37), Janice (36), Kristin (33) and Don (27). They also have nine grandchildren.

A native of Conneaut, OH, Adamack served the Cleveland Indians as director of public relations from 1975-78. Following his 1973 graduation from Wittenberg University in Springfield, OH, he attended the sports administration graduate program at Ohio University.

Adamack lives in Seattle. He has a daughter, Elizabeth (12) and a son, Joe (10).

BRIAN BEGGS

Vice President, Finance & Administration

The 1996 season is Brian Beggs' 16th year with the Mariners and his 14th as Vice President of Finance and Administration. A native of Palo Alto, CA, Beggs joined the Mariners in March, 1981 as the club's controller, a position he held for two years before his promotion in 1983. Beggs is responsible for all financial and administrative functions of the club.

Prior to the Mariners, Beggs spent seven years with the Dole Foods division of Castle & Cooke, Inc. He last served as the chief financial officer of Dole Thailand, Ltd., during which time he and his family lived in Bangkok.

Beggs, 49, earned a B.A. degree in Economics at Whitman College and an M.B.A. degree at the University of Santa Clara.

Prior to joining the Mariners, Gobrecht held key special events management and sponsorship positions with The Walt Disney Company and Seattle Seafair. He currently holds volunteer leadership roles with the United Way, University of Washington Athletic Department Marketing Advisory Committee and the Seattle Sports and Events Council.

Gobrecht, 45, has a B.S. and an M.B.A. from the University of Southern California and served as a Peace Corps volunteer in Western Somoa.

He and his wife Chris reside in Bellevue, WA with their children Eric (10) and Madeline (7). The family is active in Little League, the Boys and Girls Club and the U.W. women's basketball program, where Chris is the head coach.

PAUL ISAKI

Vice President, Business Development

After eight years in former Washington State Governor Booth Gardner's administration, Paul Isaki joined the Mariners in December 1992 as the club's Vice President of Business Development. Isaki, 51, is responsible for directing the strategic expansion of the Mariners' market and business base.

Isaki serves as the Mariners' governmental liaison and is working directly with the Public Facilities District on the construction of Seattle's new Major League Baseball park, which is scheduled to open in 1999. Development of the Vancouver, B.C. market, and negotiation of a five-state cable TV agreement are among the Mariners' initiatives he has directed within the Pacific Northwest region. In addition, Isaki manages the clubs marketing efforts in Japan and the Asian-Pacific basin.

Isaki served as a special assistant to Governor Gardner for international trade and business development for five years before his appointment to director of the state's Department of Trade and Economic Development in 1990. During his state service, Isaki strengthened the state's export promotion and industrial recruitment efforts in Japan, Taiwan and South Korea. SEATTLE MARINERS
1995 TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

DIVISION TITLE — For the first time in their 19-year history, the Mariners won the American League Western Division Championship with a 79-66 record . . . Seattle finished one game ahead of the California Angels . . . prior to the 1995 season, Seattle was one of five teams that had not made the playoffs since the inception of division play in 1969 (others were Cleveland, Texas, Colorado and Florida).

THE RECORD — The Mariners' 79-66 record was the best winning percentage (.545) ever posted by a Seattle club . . . previous mark was 83-79, .512 in 1991 . . . the 13-game-over .500 record marked an 27-game improvement over the 1994 final record of 49-63 . . . the 27-game improvement was fourth best in the A.L. behind Clevelanc (+37), Boston (+35) and California (+32).

LOU PINIELLA — Captured his first A.L. Manager of the Year Award by the BBWAA and M.L. Manager of the Year Award by AP after guiding the Mariners to their first-ever playoff appearance . . . became just the 11th manager in history to lead a team to the post-season in both leagues . . . ran his managerial record with Seattle to 210-209 for a club-record winning percentage of .501 . . . his nine-year M.L. career managerial record now stands at 689-633 for a .521 winning percentage . . . Piniella needs just 24 more wins to become the Mariners' all-time winningest skipper (Jim Lefebvre has 233 wins) . . . in his three years in Seattle, the Mariners have always finished strong, posting a .603 winning percentage from August 1st on (76-50 record) and have never had a losing record in either August or September . . . in the post-season, Piniella now has a 13-8 career managerial record with Cincinnati and Seattle.

THIRD GREATEST COMEBACK OF ALL-TIME — The Mariners were a season-low 13 games behind California on August 3 with 55 games remaining, yet came back to win the division . . . according to SABR, the 13-game comeback equalled the third-greatest comeback in M.L. history, trailing only the 1914 Boston Braves (15 games out on July 16) and the 1978 New York Yankees (14 games out on July 29) . . . the 1951 New York Giants also came back from 13 games out on August 12 (see box below).

THE RUN — Beginning on August 24 when Ken Griffey Jr. hit a game-winning, ninth-inning HR off NY's John Wetteland, the Mariners won 25 of their final 36 games . . . Seattle closed out the season with a 17-5 run which began on September 7 . . .

THE PLAYOFF GAME — The Mariners and Angels ended the regular season with identical 78-66 records to force a one-game playoff for the A.L. Luis Sojo's three-run double in the seventh inning broke open a 1-0 lead . . . the playoff game was just the third in A.L. history and only the eighth playoff in M.L. history . . . here's a look:

A.L.	1995	California 1 at Seattle 9
	1978	New York 5 at Boston 4
	1948	Cleveland 8 at Boston 3
N.L.	1980	Houston 7 at Los Angeles 1

Seattle had to post comebacks in eight of its final 11 victories . . . on September 22 vs. Oakland, the Mariners overcame a season-high, six-run deficit . . . Seattle also wiped out a pair of five-run deficits (July 27 vs. Cleveland and August 8 vs. Chicago).

AT HOME — Seattle posted a 46-27 record in the Kingdome, winning 16 of its final 19 home games . . . the Mariners had the third-best home winning record in baseball, trailing only the Indians (54-18) and the Yankees (46-26) . . . on the season, Seattle batted .285 with 101 HRs at home compared to a .266 average and 81 HRs on the road.

VS. THE WEST — The Mariners were 22-17 against the three teams in their own division, the best record in the A.L. West . . . last year, Seattle again had the best record against its own division with a 19-7 mark . . . since reallignment, the Mariners are 41-24 against the West, as compared to Oakland's 36-29, California's 30-37 and Texas' 26-43.

Buhner joined Ken Griffey Jr. (45 in 1993 and 40 in 1994) as the only players in Seattle history to hit 40 or more HRs in a season.

1995 POST-SEASON RECAP

Randy Johnson's complete-game three-hitter vs. California propelled Seattle into its first-ever post-season.

1995 POST-SEASON RECAP

The Mariners made their first appearance in post-season play an exciting one, as they came from two games down to defeat the New York Yankees in the Division Series which many call the best five-game series ever. Seattle then extended the heavily-favored Cleveland Indians to six games in the American League Championship Series.

Seattle made the most of their home field advantage, drawing crowds in excess of 57,000 in all six post-season games played in the Kingdome. Facing elimination in each game, the Mariners rode the energy of the home fans and thrilled the nationwide TV audience to a three-game home sweep of the Yankees to advance to the ALCS.

As if that was not enough excitement, the Division Series with New York was only the fifth post-season series ever to have the decisive game be decided in extra-innings, joining the 1912 World Series, the 1924 World Series, the 1980 NLCS and the 1991 World Series.

Seattle continued the thrilling play in the ALCS against Cleveland with an exciting Game One win behind unproven rookie Bob Wolcott and taking a two games to one lead in Game Three thanks to a memorable performance by Jay Buhner.

During the course of the playoffs, Ken Griffey Jr. and Edgar Martinez established new Major League records for post-season play in home runs and RBI, respectively (see box on page 157).

The Mariners became just the fourth team in history to overcome a 2-0 deficit in a best-of-five playoff series, defeating the New York Yankees 3-2 in the Division Series by sweeping three games in Seattle.

Game 1 — New York broke a 4-4 tie with four runs in the seventh inning and won the first game of the series 9-6 behind the pitching of David Cone. Ken Griffey Jr. slugged a pair of home runs, including a two-run shot to tie the score at four in the seventh inning.

Game 2 — In the longest post-season game ever (5 hours, 12 minutes) New York outlasted Seattle, winning 7-5 in 15 innings. Jim Leyritz hit a two-run homer off Tim Belcher in the bottom of the 15th inning to end the game. Ken Griffey Jr. drilled his third home run of the series in the top of the 12th to give Seattle a 5-4 lead, but New York answered with a run in the bottom of the 12th to extend the game.

Game 3 — The series returned to Seattle and Randy Johnson tossed seven innings of four-hit ball as the Mariners stayed alive with a 7-4 win. Seattle scored four runs in the sixth inning to chase Yankees starter Jack McDowell.

Game 4 — Seattle overcame a 5-0 deficit as Edgar Martinez slugged a pair of home runs and drove in a post-season record seven RBI. Martinez hit a three-run shot in the third inning to cut New York's lead to 5-3, then slugged a grand slam in the eighth-inning to snap a 6-6 tie.

Game 5 — Randy Johnson, pitching on one days rest, tossed three innings of relief and Edgar Martinez drilled a two-RBI double in the bottom of the 11th inning as Seattle claimed a come-from-behind 6-5 win and advanced to the ALCS. The Mariners scored a pair of runs in the eighth inning to tie the score at 4-4. Martinez' double drove in Joey Cora and Ken Griffey Jr. to wipe out a 5-4 deficit in the 11th inning.

1995 AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The Mariners first-ever appearance in the playoffs ended as Cleveland defeated Seattle 4-2 in the ALCS.

Game 1 — Surprise starter Bob Wolcott overcame walks to the first three batters he faced and the Mariners beat Cleveland 3-2. Wolcott, a 22-year-old rookie whose longest previous outing was six innings, tossed seven innings and allowed only two runs to the league's best offense. Mike Blowers slugged a two-run HR to give Seattle an early 2-0 lead, and Luis Sojo doubled home the winning run in the seventh inning.

Game 2 — Cleveland earned a split in Seattle, posting a 5-2 win behind eventual series MVP Orel Hershiser. The Mariners managed only solo home runs by Ken Griffey Jr. and Jay Buhner.

Game 3 — Jay Buhner slugged a pair of home runs, including a game-winning three-run blast in the 11th inning as Seattle won 5-2. Randy Johnson tossed eight innings and allowed only one earned run and Norm Charlton posted three innings of no-hit relief to pick up the win.

Game 4 — Cleveland shellacked Seattle 7-0 behind the pitching of Ken Hill to tie the series at 2-2. Mariners' starter Andy Benes lasted just 2.1 innings, allowing six earned runs.

Game 5 — The Indians claimed a tough 3-2 win as Jim Thome hit a two-run HR in the sixth inning to wipe out a 2-1 Seattle lead. Seattle had a chance to tie in the eighth inning, but Luis Sojo lined into an unassisted double-play to end the inning.

Game 6 — Cleveland scored three runs in the eighth inning and Dennis Martinez and two relievers combined for a 4-0 shutout to end the series. Seattle managed just four hits, none after the sixth inning.

POST-SEASON RECORDS

Ken Griffey Jr. set a new mark for home runs in a Division or Championship Series, slugging five against the Yankees in the Division Series. Griffey matched the all-time post-season single-series record, held by Reggie Jackson (1977 World Series). Griffey's post-season total of six home runs tied the M.L. mark for a single post-season (also Lenny Dykstra, 1993 Phillies and Bob Robertson, 1971 Pirates). Edgar Martinez set a new record for RBI in a post-season game with his seven RBI in Game 4 of the Division Series.

IMPORTANT DATES IN MARINERS HISTORY

Aug. 24, 1976 — "Mariners" is selected as the team's nickname after a contest which attracted 15,000 entries.

Nov. 5, 1976 — Mariners and Toronto each select 30 players in the Expansion Draft. Ruppert Jones is the number one pick from Kansas City.

April 6, 1977 — In Major League regular season debut, the Mariners drop the American League opener 7-0 to the California Angels before a crowd of 57,762 at the Kingdome.

Aug. 5, 1977 — The Mariners pass the million mark in home attendance. The final season crowd mark was 1,338,511.

July 17, 1979 — The Mariners host the 50th All-Star Game before a Seattle record baseball crowd of 58,905. The National League edges the American League 7-6, but the M's Bruce Bochte produces a run-scoring single.

May 6, 1982 — Gaylord Perry wins 300th career game, beating the New York Yankees in a 7-3 complete-game victory at the Kingdome before a crowd of 27,369. He became the 15th pitcher in M.L. history to win 300 games.

Oct. 1, 1982 — Floyd Bannister makes his final start and finishes the year with 209 strikeouts. That leads the American League, a first for a Mariners player.

Nov. 20, 1984 — Alvin Davis wins A.L. Rookie of the Year (BBWAA), teammate Mark Langston finishes second. Davis is the first Mariner to win a major BBWAA post-season award.

Oct. 4, 1987 — Harold Reynolds finishes the season with 60 stolen bases and becomes the first Mariner ever to lead the league in an offensive category.

April 13, 1990 — The Mariners register the first sellout in club history as 54,597 fans see the home opener against the World Champion Oakland Athletics.

April 20, 1990 — Brian Holman retires the first 26 Oakland players in order and comes within one out of tossing the 15th perfect game in M.L. history before Ken Phelps homers in 6-1 Mariners win.

June 2, 1990 — Randy Johnson becomes the first player in club history to throw a no-hitter as he blanks the Detroit Tigers 2-0.

Aug. 31, 1990 — Ken Griffey and Ken Griffey Jr. become the first father and son to play in the same major league lineup, after Ken Griffey signs with the Mariners as a free agent on August 29.

Oct. 6, 1991 — The Mariners establish a new club single-season attendance record as a total of 2,147,905 tickets were purchased for the 1991 season.

Sept. 27, 1992 — Randy Johnson strikes out 18 batters at Texas, setting a new club record and tying the A.L. mark for a LHP (also Ron Guidry in 1978).

Oct. 4, 1992 — Edgar Martinez finishes the season with a .343 average and becomes the first Mariner ever to lead the league in hitting.

April 22, 1993 — Chris Bosio throws the second no-hitter in club history, blanking the Boston Red Sox 7-0. After two leadoff walks in the first inning, he gets a double-play ball on his way to retiring the final 26 batters in a row.

May 16-17, 1993 — Mike Blowers becomes the 13th player in M.L. history to hit grand-slam home runs in consecutive games.

June 23, 1993 — Jay Buhner becomes the first player in Mariners history to hit for the cycle in a game against the Oakland Athletics.

July 20-28, 1993 — Ken Griffey Jr. homers in eight straight games, tying the M.L. record set by Dale Long (1956) and Don Mattingly (1987).

Sept. 26, 1993 — Randy Johnson becomes the 12th M.L. pitcher since 1900 to strike out 300 batters in a season with a ninth-inning whiff of Oakland's Ruben Sierra. He finishes the year with 308 strikeouts.

July 19, 1994 — Four ceiling tiles fall prior to game with Baltimore, forcing first-ever postponement of a Kingdome game. Mariners play remainder of regular season on the road.

Aug. 11, 1994 — In final game of season, Ken Griffey Jr. hits his 40th home run and becomes the first Mariners player to win the A.L. home run crown.

Oct. 2, 1995 — Seattle beats California 9-1 behind Randy Johnson's 3-hitter to win the team's first-ever Western Division title. The win, in only the third-ever A.L. playoff, capped the fourth-largest comeback in M.L. history.

Edgar Martinez finishes season with a .356 batting average to win his second A.L. batting title. Martinez has the only two batting titles in team history.

Nov. 6, 1995 — Lou Piniella is named Manager of the Year by the BBWAA. He is the first Mariner manager to be so honored.

Nov. 14, 1995 — Randy Johnson is named the 1995 Cy Young Award winner, the Mariners first-ever.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

1890 The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.

1892 The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.

1896 Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).

1903 The Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).

1906-17 Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.

1919 Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).

1937 Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).

1938 On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.

1939-41 The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.

1955 Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).

1960 Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate.

1965-68 The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.

1967 Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).

1969 The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began to play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.

1970 On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.

1972-76 Seattle fielded a team in the class-A Northwest League.

1977 On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.

1995 Seattle won its first American League West pennant.

NAMING THE MARINERS

The nickname "Mariners" was selected by the ownership of the Seattle franchise after a "Name the Team Contest" that resulted in over 15,000 entries and over 600 different names being submitted.

When the name "Mariners" was chosen, all the entries suggesting the name were reviewed for their reasons (in 25 words or less).

The winner was Roger Szmodis of Bellevue, WA. His entry read "I've selected Mariners because of the natural association between the sea and Seattle and her people, who have been challenged and rewarded by it."

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, all bases on balls and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Average — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, the Seattle Mariners and the San Diego Padres proudly opened baseball's best spring training facility in 1994. Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, the 145-acre Peoria Sports Complex provides separate practice facilities for the Padres and Mariners that include 6-1/2 practice fields, batting cages and a clubhouse.

Peoria Stadium, which was designed by HOK Sports Group of Kansas City, is the jewel of the $32-million complex and accommodates 10,000 fans (7,000 seats and 3,000 on lawn). Dimensions for the park are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.

Peoria is only the second spring training site in Mariners history, as the club trained in Tempe from 1977-92. Seattle played all road games in 1993, but used the Peoria facility for morning workouts as it was under construction.

DIRECTIONS: Take Bell Road exit off I-17 north; travel west to 83rd Avenue; travel south and enter facility at Stadium Way.

BROADCASTERS

DAVE NIEHAUS has been a Mariners broadcaster since the club's inception into the American League in 1977. During his 19 seasons behind the microphone for the Mariners, he has missed only 18 games. Entering the 1996 season, he has witnessed 2,939 of the 2,957 games played by the Mariners. He is recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game of baseball, and has become instantly identified with the Mariners. His expressions like "My Oh My" and "It will fly away" (for home runs) have become familiar throughout the Northwest.

Dave was born and raised in Princeton, Indiana, and is a graduate of Indiana University, where he worked for the campus radio station. He then went to work for the Armed Forces radio and TV service, calling the action for Los Angeles Dodgers games before moving to New York to handle Yankees baseball as well as basketball and hockey from Madison Square Garden. After leaving the Armed Forces Network, he returned to Los Angeles to broadcast the Dodgers, Rams and Lakers. From 1969-76, he teamed with Dick Enberg and Don Drysdale to call the action for the California Angels on KMPC Radio. Dave also broadcasted UCLA football and basketball (1973-76). He resides in Bellevue with wife Marilyn. They have three children: Andy, Matt and Greta.

RICK RIZZS (pronounced RIZ) begins his tenth season with the Mariners broadcast team in 1996. He spent three seasons calling the play-by-play on radio for the Detroit Tigers from 1992-94. He previously teamed with Dave Niehaus on radio and television for the Mariners from 1983-91.

Rick is a 1975 graduate of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. From 1975-80, he handled baseball play-by-play duties at the double-A level for Alexandria, Amarillo and Memphis. He became the sports director at WBNS radio in Columbus, OH in 1981, where he called Ohio State football and triple-A baseball for two seasons. He was named the Ohio "Sportscaster of the Year" in 1981 by the Ohio Sportscasters Association. Rick was hired to broadcast Mariners games in 1983 and spent nine seasons with the club. From 1992-94, he teamed with Bob Rathbun to call the action for the Tigers on WJR in Detroit. In 1993, he also worked with the legendary Ernie Harwell. Rick resides in Issaquah with his son Nick.

RON FAIRLY begins his fourth season with the Mariners in 1996. The former Major Leaguer brings 38 years of professional baseball experience to the Mariners broadcast booth, 21 as a player and 17 as a broadcaster.

Ron was born in Macon, GA and attended the University of Southern California as a finance major. After earning All-America honors on the diamond for USC, he was signed by the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1958. Fairly played in the Major Leagues from 1958-78 with the Dodgers (1958-69), Montreal Expos (1969-74), St. Louis Cardinals (1975-76), Oakland Athletics (1976), Toronto Blue Jays (1977) and California Angels (1978). In 2,442 games, he compiled a lifetime average of .266 with 215 home runs and 1,044 RBI. He was a two-time All-Star (1973 and 1977) and played in four World Series (1959, 1963, 1965-66).

After retiring as a player, Ron worked as the sports director at KTLA radio in Los Angeles for three years. From 1982-86, he teamed with Bob Starr to broadcast Angels games on KMPC. He then moved to San Francisco, where he handled the Giants play-by-play and color duties on both radio and television for six years. Ron resides in Westlake Village, CA with wife Mary. The couple has three sons: Steve, Mike and Patrick.

KEVIN CREMIN begins his 14th season as producer-engineer for all Mariners radio broadcasts in 1996. He is responsible for the technical aspects of each broadcast, as well as relaying updated game information to Dave Niehaus and Rick Rizzs.

The Tulsa, OK native attended the University of Oklahoma and studied journalism. After spending eight years in the circulation department of the Tulsa World & Tribune, he joined the Mariners Radio Network full-time in 1983. He is currently senior engineer in the American League. He resides in Seattle with wife Margaret and daughters Colleen and Kate.

MARK ENGELBREKT is entering his 11th season of involvement with Mariners television broadcasts in 1996. He currently serves as the producer and director for all telecasts and also coordinates the broadcasts with flagship station KIRO-TV in Seattle.

Mark graduated from the University of Washington in 1974 with a B.A. in communications. After working as a floor director for KING and KOMO, he joined KSTW in 1977 as producrer/director of the Ten O'clock News. He produced Mariners telecasts from 1982-85 and served as producer/director from 1989-91. He joined the Mariners organization as television network producer in 1993. He resides in Seattle with wife Dianne, son Max and daughter Lily.

NOTES

1996 POST SEASON

The 1996 Division Series will feature the winners of each of the three divisions and a wild card team squaring off in a best-of-five series. This year the home-field advantage of games 3, 4 and 5, will be held at the site of the West and Central Division winners. The wild card team will be the second place team with the best record and will play the division winner with the best record, unless that team also is scheduled to host game 1 and 2, or is from the same division as the wild card.

The two winners from each of the Division Series will advance to the best-of-seven League Championship Series, with the winner advancing to the World Series. The Central Division winner or its opponent in the Division Series will have the home field advantage (games 1, 2, 6, 7) for the LCS. However, if the opponents of the Central Division winner is the wild card, and the wild card wins the Division Series, the West or its opponent will host games 1, 2, 6 and 7 of the LCS. (Note: The wild card team will never have the home field advantage for the Division or League Championship Series.)

The American League has the home field advantage (Games 1, 2, 6, 7) for the 1996 World Series.
